AGGRESSIVENESS

In the Samoan Affairs Advocated in the Senate.

SENATORS DOLPH AND REAGAN MAKE RED-HOT SPEECHES.

The Latter Considers the Degradation of Our Honor Worse Than War—A Message From the President on the Subject—Bismarck's Letter to the German Minister at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Wednesday a consideration of the amendments regarding Samoa to the consular diplomatic appropriations bill was resumed, and Mr. Dolph took the floor. He declared the Samoan islands to be of great importance to the United States, both strategically and commercially. He discussed at length minute details of the relations of Samoa with this country and with England and Germany, and showed conclusively that Germans had repeatedly used force in securing their foothold.

It was German interference which deprived Malietoa of his kingdom and put the rebel Tamasese at the head of affairs. Malietoa could have retained his throne, and peace and order would have prevailed but for the instructions given our consul to prevail upon Malietoa to make no resistance. For this reason he thought we should protect the rights of the legitimate sovereign there. He declared that some definite policy should now be assumed in this matter, and not to acquiesce in Germany's attempt to secure full control of the islands. All foreign nations recognize the importance of these islands while we stand by afraid to maintain our right.

Continuing, Mr. Dolph said the Monroe doctrine should be asserted with regard to Samoa. He contended that the application of the doctrine is not confined to the continent of America from the use of the word hemispheres herein and from the manner in which it has been construed in the past. In his opinion Samoa bears the same relation to Lower California and Central America as do the Sandwich Islands to California, and he declared that the autonomy of the government and the rights of people of the islands ought to be preserved.

Mr. Reagan followed and said the Germans had unquestionably violated the neutrality of the islands and insulted the American flag. He thought our rights should be defended, but criticized the amendments as not giving the president proper instructions for the expenditure of the appropriations.

Before Reagan had concluded his remarks regarding Samoa, he gave utterance to some very forcible expressions. He said he did not want war with Germany as he had seen enough of the horrors of war. But he considered that the degradation of the honor of a great nation by the arrogance of another was worse than war, and he would not submit to it. We ought to assert our rights in Samoa as would any other great and powerful nation. If we had in congress Bismarck's will and firmness the question would have been settled long ago.

Germans Control Everything. LONDON, Feb. 1.—Dispatches from Auckland regarding affairs at the Samoan islands state that the German naval officers have been notified to search all vessels in Samoan waters for contraband articles. The Germans have suppressed the Samoan Times, a paper published in the English language at Apia.

A British subject who visited Mataafa was arrested but was released in compliance with the demand of the British consul. The police of Apia have been placed under German control and the town is at the mercy of the latter.

Six thousand of Mataafa's followers have entrenched themselves strongly and are ready to give battle to the Germans. The Samoans are rapidly joining the forces of Mataafa.

When the steamer Richmond arrived at Apia she was boarded and searched by the Germans.

A Message From the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The president has sent to congress additional correspondence relative to Samoan affairs, accompanied by the following message:

"To the Congress: I had the honor, on the 15th inst., to communicate to your honorable body certain correspondence and documents in relation to affairs in the Samoan islands, and having since received further dispatches from the vice-consul at Apia and the commander of the United States naval vessel Nipsic, in those waters, I lose no time in laying them before you.

"I also transmit herewith the full text of instructions from Prince Von Bismarck to the German minister at this capital, which was communicated on the afternoon of the 28th inst. This appears to be an amplification of prior telegraphic instructions on the same subject, communicated through the same channel, and which, being set forth in the note of the secretary of state to Count Von Arco Valley, the German minister, of the 12th inst., was duly laid before congress with my last message in relation to Samoan affairs.

"It is also proper to inform you that, on Monday, the 28th inst., the occasion of the communication of the note of the prince chancellor, the secretary of state was given to understand by the German minister that a proposition from his government to that of the United States, for a conference on the Samoan subject, was on its way by mail, having left Berlin on the 30th inst., so that its arrival here in due course of mail can be looked for in a very short time.

"In reply to an inquiry from the secretary of state, whether the proposition referred to was for a renewal of the joint conference between the United States, Germany and Great Britain, which was suspended in July, 1887, or for the consideration of Samoan affairs de novo, the German minister stated his inability to answer until the proposition which left Berlin on the 20th inst. should have been received. I shall, hereafter, communicate to the congress all information before me in relation to the Samoan status.

The correspondence accompanying the message gives an amplified account of recent events in Samoa, an outline of which has already been telegraphed and published, for the protection of their property.

The following is a translation of the letter from Prince Bismarck to Count Arco-Valley, the German minister at Washington:

"MINISTRY OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS, BERLIN, Jan. 13, 1889.

"I have already notified your excellency that according to telegraphic communications from Apia on the 18th of December of last year a detachment of German naval forces which had been landed at the requisition of the imperial consul for the protection of German settlements which were endangered by the conflicts between the native people, there, was attacked by armed Samoans belonging to the party of Chief Mataafa.

"This unprovoked attack is said to have taken place under the leadership of an American named Klein. On this occasion more than fifty German soldiers and officers were killed and wounded. In consequence of this we have been transplanted from the territory of mediatory negotiations, by which the imperial consul in Apia, was trying to reconcile the contending parties, and for which he had sought the co-operation of his English and American colleagues, into a state of war with the assailants, to our regret. We shall carry on the contest which has been forced upon us by Mataafa and his followers with the utmost consideration of English and American interests.

"Our military measures have in view only the punishment of the murderers of German soldiers, and the protection of our own countrymen and their property. As they, on their part, are at war with Tamasese, our conference will necessarily assume the character of assistance to Tamasese. In the endeavor for the just punishment of a murderous crime we hope for the co-operation of the treaty powers in Samoa in friendship with us, and we ask the government of the United States to be good enough to furnish the consuls and the commanders of its ships-of-war in Samoa with suitable instructions.

"Our armed forces there are instructed to avoid and to prevent all injury to neutral commerce and property, and to adopt measures of reprisal and destruction only against the followers of the party which initiated the contest against our troops by a murderous attack. We shall, of course, abide by the agreements with America and England with respect to Samoa, and pay due regard, under all circumstances, to the rights of those powers as established by treaty. I beg your excellency to bring this communication to Mr. Bayard's knowledge by reading it to him, and to leave a copy of it with him if he requests it. BISMARCK."

Consul General Sewall on Samoa.

LEWISTON, Me., Feb. 1.—Consul General Sewall, of Samoa, is a son of Arthur Sewall, the Maine railroad magnate, and has been spending a vacation in this state. He left Wednesday for Washington, whence he expects to at once proceed to Apia. Mr. Sewall said: "I am much pleased with the outcome of the investigation at Washington and the improved prospects for American interests in Samoa. At least it looks as if our government has awakened to the importance of those interests, and will give them the protection and encouragement they deserve. I expect the American colony will grow rapidly if peace is assured, for I consider this island group one of the most attractive spots in the world and a grand opening for American commerce.

"Many people who had settled there to engage in business have left on account of the trouble, but I expect they will return as soon as definite arrangements are made with Germany and the other powers. I do not believe there will be any trouble in making this settlement.

"Our trade with Samoa has been confined to breadstuffs, lumber and kerosine of late, but a general commerce can be easily built up. I regard Apia as fully as important a center as Hawaii, and worthy of much attention from mercantile enterprise."

Adopted by the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The senate has adopted without division the amendments to the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill reported by the committee on foreign relations, appropriating $500,000 to protect the interests of the United States in Samoa, and $100,000 to construct and maintain a coaling station in the harbor of Pango Pango, the money to be immediately available.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Mrs. Meekie Rawson, the wife of the millionaire banker, who in open court shot Lawyer Whitney nearly to death, was acquitted in short order Wednesday evening. Only two ballots were taken, the jury finding in favor of the defendant on the ground that she had been rendered temporarily insane at the time the deed was committed.

MRS. RAWSON. Only one juror voted against Mrs. Rawson on the first ballot, and he readily succumbed to the arguments of the others.

Dynamite on Street Car Tracks.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Feb. 1.—A dynamite cartridge placed on the street car track was exploded by a car Wednesday night. The passengers were badly shaken up, but uninjured. The affair created great excitement.

PRINCE RUDOLPH,

Heir-Apparent to the Throne of Austria, Dies Suddenly.

HIS DEMISE A CRUSHING BLOW UPON THE IMPERIAL HOUSE.

He Returns From a Hunting Trip Tuesday and Wednesday Morning Is Found Dead in His Bed—The Hungarians Loved Him Notwithstanding His Faults—Editor O'Brien Jailed—Foreign.

VIENNA, Feb. 1.—Archduke Rudolph, the Austrian crown prince and heir apparent to the throne, died suddenly Wednesday at Baden.

Nothing definite as to the cause of Crown Prince Rudolph's death has yet been learned. By some persons it is believed that it was due to disease of the heart. It has been learned that he was found dead in bed by his valet, when the latter entered his bed chamber. The town of Baden, where he died, is an Austrian town twelve miles from Vienna.

The Official Gazette says: "Fate has inflicted a crushing blow upon the imperial house, and the people of Austria-Hungary. Our universally esteemed crown prince is dead. The deeply loved son of the emperor and empress, the life's happiness of his affectionate spouse, the dearly loved and honored brother of the Princesses Gisela and Valerie, the pride of the entire imperial house, and the hope of his faithful people, in the flower of his youth, and the fullness of his strength, sinks into an early grave. With deepest mourning, with hearts brimming with sorrow, the people of the empire turn their sorrowful glances toward the throne in hereditary love and fidelity, and join in an earnest prayer that God will grant the imperial family the consolation that mere human words, even when sounding from a million tongues, can scarcely bring."

The bourse first learned the news through the bourse commissary, Gen. Carstern. A paralysis of business ensued. Members rushed to the streets and besieged the telegraph offices. The bourse was immediately closed, and the committee ordered to keep it closed till Friday. The reichsrath also adjourned amid great excitement. The court theaters and all the places of amusement gave no performances Wednesday night.

In spite of the well authenticated stories of his waywardness and shameful treatment of his wife, Archduchess Stephanie, the prince was very popular among the Hungarians and the Hungarians will be sincerely mourned. His manners were frank and cordial, and he had a still stronger hold upon the affections of the people in the fact that he spoke all the languages and dialects of the empire fluently.

The Fremdenblatt says that on Tuesday, when Crown Prince Rudolph returned from shooting he complained of a headache, and retired to his room to write letters. He awoke on Wednesday morning before 7 o'clock and at 7:30 ordered his breakfast to be brought to him. His valet on entering the room with his breakfast, found the prince dead in his bed.

Count Hogos and Prince Philip, of Coburg, who were Prince Rudolph's guests, rushed to the prince's chamber when the valet told them that the prince was dead. Count Hogos, attired in his hunting costume, went with all speed to Vienna and acquainted Emperor Francis Joseph with the sad news. The count was closeted for fifteen minutes with his majesty, who, directly after the interview, hastened to inform the empress, whose grief upon learning of her son's death was terrible.

Both the emperor and empress then went to the apartments of Crown Princess Stephanie, and told her of her husband's death. Princess Stephanie insisted upon going immediately to Meyling, where the prince lay dead, and united efforts of the emperor and empress were hardly able to dissuade her. They were finally successful, however, and the emperor then remained alone until 3 o'clock in the afternoon when he ordered the body of the prince to be brought to Vienna. The body of the prince arrived here at 1 o'clock a. m. on a special train. A large crowd had gathered at the depot to await its arrival, but quietly left the station at the request of the guards.

The crown prince had been married seven years without male issue. The imperial crown is limited to the male issue of the house of Hapsburg, and therefore in the event of the death of Franz Joseph will go to his brother, Archduke Carl Ludwig. The crown prince in that event will be Carl's son Otto, who, it is said, has shown unmistakable signs of mental aberration. It is feared, too, that he is a victim of that curse of the Hapsburg family, epilepsy, which rendered the late emperor unfit to govern, as well as the present emperor's father, so that the death of Rudolph seriously affects the question of dynastic succession.

The Cause of Rudolph's Death.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The British Medical Journal has received a dispatch from Vienna which states that Crown Prince Rudolph's death was caused by a rupture of the cardiac walls with an effusion of blood into the pericardium.

Homeward Bound.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—United States Minister Phelps and Mrs. Phelps have made their adieu to England and set sail for America on the North German Lloyd steamer Lahn from Southampton. They received a hearty farewell on all sides. Hosts of Americans and foreign diplomats gathered at the Waterloo station of the London & Southwestern railway to say good-by to the minister and his wife. Baroness Burdett-Coutts presented Mrs. Phelps with a magnificent bouquet of flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelps were met at Southampton by the mayor and municipal authorities, who accompanied the voyagers to the tender which took them aboard of the Lahn.

William O'Brien Again in Prison.

DUBLIN, Feb. 1.—Mr. O'Brien arrived at Kingston Wednesday afternoon. The lord mayor and other Farnellites awaited his arrival at the Westland Row station in Dublin, but the police changed the route, conveying O'Brien to the Clonmel prison via the Kinsbridge station.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

A Condensation of Interesting Items on Various Subjects.

James Williams was shot and killed at Albion, Neb., by Benjamin Skillman. Family difficulties.

John B. Rife, of Middletown, Pa., was thrown from his carriage in South Harrisburg, Pa., and killed.

John True, charged with murder, escaped from jail at West Union, W. Va., and was found frozen to death.

Last September Charles Sonder, of Tiffin, assaulted and beat Blasius Christ, who entered suit against him for $500. The jury has returned a verdict giving him $35.

Charles Simcox was frightfully burned about the breast and abdomen in Burgess' Steel and Iron works at Portsmouth, O., by a "blast" from the rolls. He will probably die.

Jay Gould appeared in the surrogate's court Wednesday and qualified as an executor of the will of his wife, Helen Day Gould. Daniel S. Miller, the other executor, also qualified.

Senator Cullom, referring to cabinet possibilities, says there is only one man posted on the matter. His opinion, however, is that Blaine and Allison will certainly be in the cabinet.

The supreme court of New Mexico gave a decision in the Maxwell land grant case affirming the title to that property and dismissing the bill of the government to set aside the patent.

The Maine legislative committee on judiciary has voted to forbid the sales of cigarettes to persons under sixteen years of age; to provide a penalty for a minor under sixteen who smokes in a public place, also to raise the age of consent for girls to sixteen years.

The report of State Treasurer Hart, of Pennsylvania, shows: Receipts from all sources for the year ending November 30, 1888, were $8,094,000.42; the total payments during the year were $7,387,866.84, leaving a balance on the 1st of December, 1888, of $3,687,055.55.

Mrs. Governor Scott, of Napoleon, O., was out sleigh riding with a spirited team, which became fractious and ran away. The cutter was dashed to pieces against a post, and Mrs. Scott was thrown out and sustained probable internal injuries, besides a compound fracture of the right arm.

Capt. John B. Rife, of Middletown, Pa., brother of Congressman-elect Rife, was thrown from his carriage in South Harrisburg Tuesday evening, and almost instantly killed. He was a captain in the regular army for a number of years, and was a prominent citizen.

Governor Beaver, grand marshal of the inaugural parade, announces the appointment of Gen. William Warner, of Missouri, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, as marshal of the Fourth division of the column, which will be composed of Grand Army posts and camps of the Sons of Veterans.

Harry G. McNally, of Harrisburg, Pa., the freeman of the engine that caused the death of John C. Ryan, near Columbia, was arrested Tuesday night, charged with involuntary manslaughter, and gave bail for a hearing. McNally, as well as the engineer, was asleep when the accident occurred.

Charles M. Balch and his wife, living two miles from Walnut Springs, Tex., were found dead in bed, Wednesday morning. Both were shot through the heart, and a revolver lay between the bodies. It is supposed that Balch shot his wife and then killed himself, but no cause is assigned for the act. They had been married but a few months.

LEGISLATURES.

Ohio.

The following resolution was adopted in the senate: To secure uniform operation of marriage and divorce laws in the states. Bills passed: Providing for reciprocity between the states in insurance laws. A protracted discussion on a bill to prohibit stoves in passenger cars resulted in the passage of the bill and then a reconsideration.

In the house the following bills were passed: Making provision for water works at Longview asylum; amending the building inspection law for Cincinnati and Cleveland; providing for improving the Hartwell road; allowing council to fix the grade of lots when improvements are made; preventing officers or others from keeping live stock at public institutions; requiring consent of council before a bridge can be put over a street or alley; authorizing St. Bernard, Hamilton county, to construct a town hall; authorizing contracts to be made with electric light companies the same as with gas companies.

Indiana.

In the senate a bill providing for the maintenance of night schools in certain cities was discussed at length, but postponed, there being no quorum present. Hovey's nomination of Robert Chisholm to be state mine inspector was referred to a committee.

In the house, a bill providing for the legal adoption of children when taken from orphan asylums or other charitable institutions was passed. Also, a bill making it a misdemeanor for saloonkeepers to permit boys under fifteen years of age to enter their saloons.

Lumber Dealers Assign.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Feb. 1.—C. B. Bart & Company, lumber dealers of this city, have made an assignment for the benefit of their creditors. Their liabilities are estimated at $100,000.

The county levy in Bracken County this year has been fixed at 50 cents on the $100.

It looks like Kenna will "get there" in his fight in the West Virginia Legislature for reelection to the U. S. Senate. He lacked but four votes of the necessary number at last accounts. However, the Republicans may succeed in defeating him with their "bloodie."

The cowardly assassination of Hon. John M. Cayton at Plummerville, Ark., has set Republican journals to shouting about "political murderers" in the South. The crime is denounced as strongly by Democrats as by Republicans. Nothing should be left undone to ferret out the murderers and all concerned in it and then let the punishment be the severest the law provides. It is a case that demands the limit of the law.

The City Council of Lexington has granted W. J. Loughridge, of that city, and C. B. Harris, of New York, the exclusive privilege to furnish fuel gas to Lexington's inhabitants for fifteen years at 50 cents per thousand cubic feet. A special says it is believed by some that natural gas has been discovered there and kept a secret, and if this be true, the action of the council will make millions of the projectors of the scheme.

There are thirty-two millionaires in the United States Senate, of whom twenty-eight are Republicans. Washburn, of Minnesota, was the last chosen. He lives in a million dollar house, is a railroad President, and is worth five million dollars. The New York Mercury says: "Some members of the Minnesota Legislature declare that this boodle king owes his Senatorial boom to the corrupt use of money, but he has got there all the same, and will find in the Senate a score of Republican corporation nabobs who could not have been elected hog reeves or pathmasters on their own merits, but whose millions wrong from an over-taxed community have opened the way for them into the club of pampered monopolists who compose the Republican majority in the United States Senate."

The Road to Success.

"I spend $5,000 a week in advertising," said John Wanamaker, the great retail merchant of Philadelphia, to a newspaper correspondent the other day, "and pay a skilful man, a former newspaper editor, and a good one, $1,000 a month to do it for me." It is a money-making business with Mr. Wanamaker. He does not see how a successful retail business can be done without liberal advertising. "Advertising," he added to the correspondent, "is the leverage with which this store has been raised up."—Ex.

Of Interest to Pensioners.

The House Committee on Invalid Pensions has agreed to report favorably a bill to increase the pensions of disabled veterans. Under this bill the pensions will be increased as follows: For the loss of an arm above the elbow the pension is increased from $36 to $42 a month, for the loss of an arm below the elbow the pension is increased from $30 to $36; for the loss of an arm at the shoulder the pension is increased from $45 to $50. The increase provided for the loss of the legs are the same. In case of total inability to perform manual labor the pension is increased to $50 and for the loss of both arm and leg the pension is increased to $60.

Immigration.

The immigration of good and law-abiding people should be encouraged, but this country hasn't any room for socialists, anarchists or criminals.

The country has been in need of stringent laws for years on this subject, and Congress is at last taking steps in the matter. A bill is now proposed which "prohibits the admission into the United States of any one who is an idiot, insane, a pauper, or liable to become a public charge, or who has been legally convicted of a felony, other infamous crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is a polygamist, anarchist, or socialist, or who is afflicted with any loathsome disease, or who has entered into contract, express or implied, oral or written, to perform labor or service for any person, firm, company or corporation in the United States, or doing business therein, or whose passage is paid on a promise to labor. It also provides that alien laborers, other than those excepted by the contract labor law, shall not be admitted to labor for a limited time with the intention of returning. The section excepts professors in universities and ministers from its prohibition."

Such a law as that is needed. This country should not be made a refuge for the classes of people named, and they should be prohibited from coming here.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Notes and Comments by Superintendent Galbraith for 1888-89.

NO. 13—MAYSLEY.

There are 78 pupils enrolled, with an average attendance of 39 in principal's room. Attendance not reported in assistant's room.

The trustees are David Raymond, Andrew Fox and J. J. Yancey. They have been very attentive to the interests of the school. The house is a neat frame building, with two excellent rooms, both well furnished with patent desks, blackboards, etc.

The principal's room is taught by Milton Johnson, the assistant's by Miss Maria Warder. There are three pupils in the assistant's room who have lost no time; in the principal's room the following: Julia Myall, Annie Yancey, Mamie Yancey, Harry Yancey, Mary Warder, Mary Mitchell, Edwin Mathews, John Lawwill, Thomas Lawwill, Hugh Forman and Mitchell Yancey.

I find here the true spirit of teaching, a work which reached the pupil as an individual, and inspired to a noble activity while it instructed. The whole management must at my hands receive only friendly criticism, which is to say the best praise I can possibly offer. This may be better understood by a few quotations from Professor Johnson's report: "My classes are all marked with the spirit of Normal enthusiasm, and with a push and energy that so destined to cause an early quaking in this 'valley of dry bones.' 'I am teaching with a love for the work and a deep interest in each child's welfare. Am holding to the motto that work is a pleasure, and the schools are the nurseries of patriotism. That their chief functions are, with the teacher's watchful guidance and example to, make citizens—men and women of activity and prosperity. For I believe there is no pleasure like that born of progress and no happiness superior to that which blossoms from the bud of industry.'"

The written work with the most approved use of the outline methods, and most rational methods of instruction are successfully exemplified. I was also pleased to note that monthly reports were sent to the parents, and a permanent record made of each pupil's standing, to be left as the record of the school.

While my notes deal for the most with the enthusiastic classes of the principal's room, yet be it remembered that the assistant teacher is a lady of splendid endowment and graceful culture, and that the public school at Maysley has taken its place shoulder to shoulder with the best in the county.

A Mother in the Play.

Some queer mistakes happen to actresses, due to the many roles they enact upon the stage. Recently Miss Kathryn Kidder, who is playing the part of mother to Little Lord Fauntleroy at the Broadway theatre, attended a reception. The hostess introduced her to a lady, with this remark: "She is the mother of Little Lord Fauntleroy." Somehow the lady interpreted the remark literally and began to question Miss Kidder about the age of her little son and when she permitted him to go on the stage. It was an embarrassing moment, when the young actress explained that she was only the mother in the play and not in real life. Miss Kidder is young and has a rich father, who is willing to star her any time she desires. She told a reporter that she preferred to work patiently and become a star in the legitimate course of her career rather than start out prematurely and run the risk of not making a financial success. As she was only 20 years old, she averred that she could wait. Miss Kidder began her stage career when she was only 16 years old, and made a success with Mayo in "Nordeck" and in Gillette's "Held by the Enemy." She is not at all superstitious, but yet one season she possessed a peacock fan which the manager declared brought bad luck to the door receipts. One night Miss Kidder deliberately laid the peacock fan in the middle of the street and left it there. Business improved from that hour.—New York Mail and Express.

Old Circus Tricks.

Now that I am out of the circus line I do not mind telling you one of the secrets of the business. It is one of the cutest tricks in the profession of a ticket seller. While we were down south and in small towns where the people were unsophisticated, we would advertise our big elephant, our dens of lions, tigers, bears and other animals, when we only had horses and mules. That was years ago, however, and the people now have to see all the animals in the street before they patronize the show. One fake which every one in the show was "on to" was the red ticket. A man with a young lady would walk boldly up to the ticket stand, and to impress his lady companion would pull out a roll of money. The ticket seller would see it, and after returning the wrong change and ticket, would put one of these red slips into the man's hand, saying, at the same time, that it would take him "clear through the menagerie, circus and concert." It was but a mark for the other fellows, and that man would be bored to death by the candy, peanut, lemonade, concert and song book man, and when they got through he would still be a mark for the pickpockets. If he got out of the tent with any of that roll he went in with it was not his fault.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Water Color Bed Quilt.

Several Lyme (Conn.) ladies and their friends have made for a church fair in Florida a block designed for a bed quilt, representing the state of Connecticut by counties, each county having some reminiscence elaborately executed in water colors on silk. Litchfield county shows a large clock in one corner and a clockmaker with his kit of tools, suggestive of Connecticut's first clock, which was made in that county. Hartford county has the coat of arms and "Qui transtulit sustinet" handsomely pointed, and the thirteen stars showing Connecticut one of the thirteen original states. Tolland county has the birthplace of Nathan Hale. Windham county represents the "battle of the frogs." Middlesex county has a view of Long Island sound and the Lady Fenwick tomb. New Haven county is a humorous representation of the old blue laws and a view of the steeples on the green at New Haven. Fairfield county represents Putnam's ride, and New London county shows Groton monument and Fort Griswold.—Boston Herald.

The Standard Oil Company will probably locate its tanks on a lot in the West End. The matter, however, has not been settled.

Peyton I. Key.

Peyton I. Key, who departed this life on the 29th of January, 1889, was born near Hebron Church, Mason County, Ky., July 15, 1817. After devoting his earlier life to the care and support of his widowed mother and the maintenance and education of a younger brother and an elder sister he was married at the age of forty-five years to Mary Ann Rankins, daughter of Blackstone H. Rankins, of Augusta, Ky.

The location of his residence, which stands one and one-half miles southeast of Washington, Ky., is well known to many of Mason County's best citizens.

Being a man of social disposition and cordial manners, he had made many friends and acquired an extensive acquaintance. Hospitable by nature his friends and acquaintances always found a cordial welcome at his fireside. Strangers often partook of his hospitality, and the needy was not turned away from his door.

He was a good and patriotic citizen, advocating those measures only he believed to be for the best interest of the county and State.

In his intercourse with his neighbors, he was kind and co-operative. Ever ready to relieve the sick and to favor the well. Their devotion to him in his last illness was a token of the esteem in which they held him.

As a father, he was not too indulgent, but by precept and example taught his sons habits of industry, ways of thrift and principles of good character.

As a husband, he was kind, considerate and always faithful. In his domestic relations he was happy even unto death.

The filial sympathy and services of love displayed by his two sons during his closing hours were all a fond father could hope for.

His beautiful and self-sacrificing devotion of his true and constant wife were his stay and comfort in the shadows of death.

In his last moments he expressed himself as tired of living. The human frame was weak, and the spirit was ready to take its flight. When the moment came, his end was: "Like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams."

INCREASING STEADILY.

List of Subscribers for Stock in Manufacturing Association—Soliciting Committees are Urged to Work.

The list of subscribers for stock in the proposed manufacturing association, is steadily increasing.

The meeting at Amazon Hall, Fifth ward, and that in Chester were both well attended, and an active interest is being taken in the matter by the citizens of the East End.

There had been 312 shares of stock subscribed for up to this morning. The parties who are most actively interested in the work are striving to increase the number to one thousand. They believe this number can be secured by a determined effort.

The various soliciting committees are urged to go to work in earnest. They are asked to get out and hustle around among the people and secure a subscription wherever one can be obtained. It will require persistent effort on the part of all the committees. No half-way work will do.

The next meeting will be held at the council chamber a week from to-night, and all the committees should strive to make as good a report as possible on that date.

Messrs. M. C. Hutchison, George M. Clinger and C. P. Dieterich were appointed a soliciting committee for Chester at the meeting last night.

Lunch and Supper.

The Little Helper's Society of the Baptist Church will give a lunch and supper in the McGranaghan building, corner Third and Market streets, this afternoon and evening. The children have undertaken to furnish the pulpit of the new church, and the proceeds of the supper will be devoted to that object. Refreshments of all kinds, including oysters, will be served at reasonable rates. Special inducements to families taking supper. Go and encourage the little ones. They have not appealed to the public often.

Death of Mrs. Arretta Cochran.

Mrs. Arretta Cochran died yesterday at 11 a. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emily West, in Lewis County. The deceased was seventy-one years old. Part of her life was spent as a resident of this city where she was well known to our older citizens. She leaves five children—Mrs. D. Hechinger, of this city; Mrs. Emily West, of Lewis County; Mrs. Belle Hersch and Miss Anna Cochran, of Greenville, O., and Mr. A. B. Cochran, of St. Joseph, Mo.

The remains will be interred in Spring Grove Cemetery, Cincinnati, to-morrow.

The New Drop Curtain.

The new drop curtain for the opera house is completed and reflects great credit on the artists Messrs. Greenwood & Fox. It is pronounced a handsome piece of work by all who have seen it.

In the center is a painting of "Antony's Nose," a point on the Hudson river. The scene gives a view of the river with sail-boats gliding about on the water, and on the distant shore is a railroad train rushing along the base of the mountain known as "Antony's Nose."

The curtain is intended as an advertisement, and surrounding the central painting are cards of twenty-four of the business establishments of Maysville, gotten up in artistic designs and attractive colors.

The curtain was hung last evening, and will be used for the first time next Wednesday night.

Ground Hog Day.

February 2—generally known as Ground Hog Day—has been observed for hundreds of years as a sort of index to the weather for the succeeding six weeks.

The popular tradition is that at nine o'clock on the morning of that day the ground hog, after a sleep of several months, emerges from his home. If he sees his shadow, a return is made to his home for a stay of six weeks, during which time mud, rain and snow may be looked for.

As to the length of time February 2nd has been regarded as a weather guide, an exchange states, Sir Thomas B. owne, as far back as 1716, says: "There is a general tradition in most parts of Europe that infereth the coldness of the balance of the winter from the shining of the sun on Candlemas Day (February 2nd)."

In the Country Almanac (England) for 1676, under February is found: "Foul weather is no news; hail, rain and snow. Are now expected, and esteemed no woe; Nay, 'tis an omen bad the yeoman say. If Phoebus shows his face the second day."

"It will be seen by the above," adds the exchange, "that the weather on the second day of February has been observed for hundreds of years all over Europe and America as a sure indication of what the weather will be for the balance of the winter. The ground hog has usurped the place of Candlemas and now claims the day as his own, which there are none to dispute."

CLARK & Co.'s closing out sale: Clo hespins 1 cent a dozen; $1 tea at 50 cents a pound; mackerel 5 cents a piece; tomatoes 8 cents a can; corn 8 cents a can; peas 10 cents a can; 30-cent coffee at 20 cents. 1d2t

MRS. AMANDA BRIDGES, received a telegram Wednesday announcing the death of Mrs. Mordacai Levi, at Charleston W. Va. The deceased will be remembered by many of our citizens, as the family were residents of Maysville for several years previous to their removal to West Virginia.

OVER fifty reserved seats were sold for the "Two Johns" engagement Wednesday next, only a few hours after they were put on sale yesterday afternoon. If you want a choice seat secure it at once. Parties at a distance can have seats reserved by dropping a postal card to Harry Taylor.

THE Pittsburg Dispatch says the "Two Johns" comedy is a most ridiculously funny thing. It will be presented to a Maysville audience next Wednesday night. The box-sheet is now open at Taylor's, and as the sale of tickets promises to be large, you should reserve seats at once.

MR. GEO. W. SULSER, assignee of Mr. L. Hill, will sell the handsome frame residence on southwest corner of Fourth and Limestone streets at public auction, Wednesday, February 20th. The frame house immediately in the rear of same, on corner of Fourth and Boone streets, will be sold at same time.

THE marriage of Mr. John H. Love, Jr., of Murcie, Ind., and Miss Edith M. Jenkins, an heiress of Reddy, Ind., is announced to take place the week after Easter. Mr. Love is traveling salesman for a large dry goods establishment of the East. He frequently visits Maysville, and has an extensive acquaintance among our citizens.

MRS. SADIE FRISTOE, wife of Mr. Richard Fristoe, died yesterday shortly after noon, of consumption. The deceased was about forty years of age. Her husband and one child survive her. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the family residence near the cemeteries in the East End. Services by Rev. R. B. Garrett.

Two tramps giving their names as Geo. Deck and Albert Lewis are in jail at Flemingsburg for stealing $20 in gold, a silver watch and a lot of wearing apparel from Porter Bell's residence near Nepton. They were caught with most of the property on their persons. Deck says he came from Pittsburg and passed through Maysville a few days since.

THE Ways and Means Committee of the City Council held a conference a few evenings since with the Guarantee Committee relative to securing the location of the C. & O. Railroad car-shops at this point. It was learned that Mr. H. E. Huntington would be in Maysville in a few days, and Messrs. Wm. H. Cox, C. B. Poyntz, W. B. Mathews, R. B. Lovel and L. W. Robertson were appointed a committee to wait on him, and see what could be done in the matter. Mr. C. P. Huntington is expected here in a few weeks.

Railroad Notes.

The big freight trains passing over the new road daily are a surprise to many people along the route.

It is reported that Shea & McDonald, of Knoxville, have secured the contract for building the Charleston, Cincinnati and Chicago Railroad from Johnson City to the Cumberland where it will join the Chattoqui road, which has been purchased by the Charleston, Cincinnati and Chicago Railroad Company. When completed this will leave but eighty miles to complete the road from Charleston to Ashland, which is on the Ohio river in the Hanging Rock iron district. A number of Chattanooga parties are interested in the building of this line, and the information of the letting of the contract will prove valuable to several of the citizens of Chattanooga. This road when completed will open up the coal and iron districts of Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and North Carolina. Owing to the amount of heavy work, the road will not be completed for about two years.—Chattanooga Times.

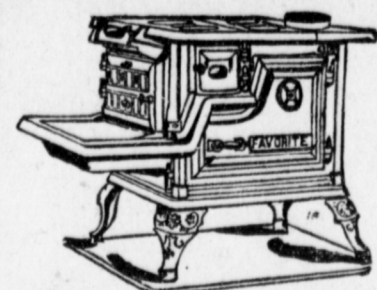

The annual report of the Kentucky Board of Railroad Commissioners places the total mileage in the State for 1888 at 2,601 miles—an increase of 315 miles over that 1887. It is especially noted that the average of railroad construction for the other States and Territories the past year was 125 miles, thus showing this State to have built more than twice the average of other States. There are 200 miles of road now under contract for construction and 500 miles more projected, with reasonable prospects that they will be built. Of the railroads built this year are the Louisville Southern, Louisville, New Orleans and Texas Pacific, and the Maysville and Big Sandy roads, each being first-class in construction and equipment.

NOT YET ENDED.

The Great Street Car Strike in New York and Brooklyn.

IT HAS BEEN AN EXPENSIVE ONE TO BOTH STRIKERS AND OWNERS.

The State Arsenal Under Guard for Fear the Strikers May Attempt to Secure the Arms Contained Therein—More Cars Being Sent Out From Day to Day—Other Labor Troubles.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The situation of affairs in the street car strike is yet unchanged. The two days' stoppage of the cars has cost the strikers $23,000, and the stockholders of the road about $50,000. The Belt line and the Broadway line, which have not had a car on the road since the tie up, have made arrangements to run cars over their route.

Quietness reigned at all the East and West Side stables during the night, but each stable was guarded by police officers in case of any trouble. There were many applicants for work at the Sixth avenue stables this morning. They were nearly all green hands. But few of the strikers have made applications so far. It was said that over 500 applicants had asked to be put to work. The Sixth avenue road started its cars at 8:24 o'clock. There were six policemen placed on each car. Inspector Williams, with 134 men and four sergeants and four roundsmen, were in charge of the depot. The Broadway line will send out as many cars as can be protected.

No attempts will be made to run cars on either the Eighth or Ninth avenue roads. The officers of these roads say they will await the result elsewhere before doing anything. It is feared that there will be trouble at the Belt line. The men are congregated thickly at the stables and exhibit an ugly disposition. They threaten to throw the first car bodily into the river with all aboard.

On account of a rumor that an attack was being arranged by the strikers for the purpose of securing arms from the state arsenal, Seventh avenue and Thirty-fifth street, a squad of twenty men from the Second battery have been detailed under Lieut. Paseo to watch the arsenal until the strike is ended. A detail of ten men was also placed in charge of the armory of the Second battery to protect the Gatling guns that are kept there.

The Third avenue cars are running so nicely that only one policeman is now kept on each car. The Twenty-third street line had its regular number of cars running at 10 o'clock.

It was rumored this morning that the Eight avenue men would probably return to work to-day. Only a few of them had asked for work up to 10 o'clock, but the superintendent was apparently willing to deal with them individually, and some of them will probably be re-engaged if they sign a paper agreeing to work independently of unions.

At 10 o'clock the first Broadway car was started. It was not one of the newest cars, for there was no telling what might be its fate. Inspector Steers scattered his men on both sides of Broadway as far down as Forty-second street, but they had nothing to do but to watch the car as it proceeded quietly down town. The strikers paid no attention to it whatever.

In Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Feb. 1.—A car on the Greenwood and Fifth avenue route, one of the Richardson lines, went over the entire route at 8:30 a. m. It was escorted by thirty-six mounted policemen. The car moved at a steady trot all the way down to the Fulton street ferry and back to the stables. Crowds of people lined the streets, but there was no disturbance.

Bit Polishers Strike.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A special to the World from Birmingham, Conn., says: Eighteen polishers of W. E. Hawkins' bit shop went out on a strike Wednesday on account of a 20 per cent. reduction of wages. Men have been hired at Castle Garden, to supplant the strikers, at $1 to $1.25 per day. William Crother, a boss in the factory, was severely beaten on his way home from the factory Wednesday.

Object to Working for Nothing.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—A World special from San Antonio, Tex., says the employees of the Arkansas Pass railroad have quit work because their wages have not been paid. President Lot and General Manager Youkum are said to be in New York raising funds.

THE BOOMERS READY

To Invade the Oklahoma Country—Soldiers Also There to Eject Them.

WICHITA, Kan., Feb. 1.—Maj. Lillie, who went to Arkansas City Monday night to look up the Oklahoma situation there, returned Wednesday night. He says that while the boomers are there ready to make the invasion, the soldiers are also there to prevent it. The territory cannot be entered from Arkansas City. The boomers may make a quiet move to some other point where the invasion can be made with less danger of interference, perhaps Caldwell or Hunnewell. The present concentration of troops would make this plan possibly successful. The organization has succeeded in getting into Oklahoma about eight hundred men, who are now at work there upon their claims. This change of plan will not in any way stop the intended invasion Saturday.

Struck the Wrong Man.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Feb. 1.—At the depot here a quarrel occurred between a brakeman and Mike Zinkans, a railway mail clerk, which ended in a fight. Zinkans procured a revolver and fired at his antagonist, but the bullet missed the mark and entered the body of Thomas Marshall, the baggage-master, making a dangerous wound.

Locomotive Boiler Explodes.

PLANO, Ill., Feb. 1.—Wednesday the boiler of a new Chicago & Quincy mogul engine, pulling the west-bound passenger train, due here at 1:30 p. m., exploded about two miles east of town. The fireman, W. H. Rankin, of Galesburg, was fatally injured. The engineer was unhurt.

Burned to Death.

WINONA, Minn., Feb. 1.—A prominent farmer named Ole Larson, seventy-four years of age, and one of the pioneers of Dodge county, was burned to a cinder by the burning of his residence three miles from Kasson, Minn., Tuesday afternoon.

WILL WITHDRAW FROM THE KNIGHTS.

Pittsburg Labor Greatly Excited Over a Proposed Move.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 1.—Much excitement was created in labor circles here when it became known that Local Assembly No. 791, Knights of Labor, composed of machinery constructors and blacksmiths, the oldest assembly in this city, and from which sprang District Assembly No. 3 had decided to withdraw from the Knights of Labor. To this end a meeting is called to be held next Saturday night. Investigation of the cause developed the following facts:

The movement is National and affects all the machinists, blacksmiths, boiler makers, pattern makers and molders from New York to Chicago. Some time ago Labor Assembly No. 791 left District Assembly No. 3 and formed National Trades District No. 9, headquarters at Cleveland. Eighteen months ago this district had more than twenty thousand members. Now there are more than eight thousand members. When the members of the above assembly applied for a charter it was understood that the charter would include machinery constructors, molders, blacksmiths, pattern makers and boiler makers.

When the charter was received it included only machinery constructors and blacksmiths. Repeated efforts failed to have this defect in the charter rectified and the charter committee became disgusted and so reported to their master workman. That officer last week issued circulars to the forty-six locals in District Assembly No. 19 to hold meetings in their respective halls on next Saturday, and have their men form a solid phalanx to withdraw from the Knights of Labor in a body.

It is the intention of the seceders to form what will be known as the Independent Order of Machinery Constructors of the United States. The order will be attached to the American Federation of Labor, and will be independent in the control of its members. They will join in the eight-hour movement in 1890. The loss of revenues to the Knights of Labor by this new move will exceed $15,000 annually.

THE BALL DRESSES.

Mrs. Morton Favors the Decollete, But Mrs. Harrison is Obdurate.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—No conclusion has been reached in the decollete discussion between Mrs. Harrison and Chornley. Mrs. Levi P. Morton is authority on style and her preference for the regulation low cut bodice is a delight to the artist, but Mrs. Harrison remains obdurate. Mrs. Morton has Mrs. Harrison under her protection. It has been arranged to cut all ball dresses decollete with the understanding that neck and shoulders, back and front shall admit of lace draperies if Mrs. Harrison so decides.

There is, however, nothing conditional about the styles for young married ladies, and Mrs. Morton will have a round corsage to show her beautiful throat and shoulders, about which a flounce of deep Portuguese point lace will be gathered to fall over the bodice. The material for Mrs. Harrison's dress is to be pearl faille francaise, profusely draped with old family lace.

Mrs. McKee has been fitted with a lot of Jouvin gloves, embroidered in Tyrol stitches. This is a new glove designed exclusively for full dress and provided with a tapering sleeve, which clings to the arm, so that an armband is required to keep it up. Mrs. Morton is arranging a small party list for the company to be tendered Mrs. Harrison, but the date is being kept secret.

THE KNIGHTS AND THE CATHOLICS.

General Master Workman Powderly Defines Certain Points.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 1.—In the Journal of United Labor General Master Workman Powderly, under the head "It is to Be a Religious War," says: "If a Knight of Labor in distress asks for succor and his cry is heard by a brother it is the duty of that brother to render such aid as lies in his power to give, without inquiring his country or his creed. The Church of Rome is not dictating the policy of this order, and has never attempted to do so."

"Your general master workman was invited to explain the true position which our occupied before bishops of Protestant churches as well as before those of the Catholic church. Because he succeeded in placing the order in its true position a number of disappointed Anarchists charged that he had sold out to the Catholic church."

"The general master workman being a Catholic afforded them the opportunity they sought. Once the rumor started, the world did not lack for fools and knaves enough to spread it far and wide. The truth is that of the sixteen officers of the general headquarters but six are Catholics."

Dr. Gatling Still Gunning.

KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 1.—Dr. Richard Gatling, inventor of the Gatling gun, in an interview here Wednesday, said that his latest invention is a police gun for use in riots. It will fire 1,300 shots a minute in any direction. He believed high explosives will be the coming destructive force in warfare. To this end he is bending his energies to design guns to use them. He has recently sold patents to an English syndicate which has built extensive works at Birmingham.

Plucky Little Schoolmarm's.

POMEROY, O., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Turner, a 250 pound colored woman, went to one of the public schools Wednesday, and raised a disturbance about the treatment her son Jim has been receiving, but two of the teachers, Misses Clemm and Zora McKnight, diminutive in size, double-teamed on her. When Mrs. Turner came away she had been hammered in fine style, and will now try the law on the spunky schoolmarm to get even.

Scull Race Arranged.

SIoux CITY, Iowa, Feb. 1.—A three-mile scull race was finally arranged Wednesday between Teemer, Gaudaur and Hosmer, to be rowed for $1,000 here next July over the River Side park course in the Sioux river.

Will Hang Together.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 1.—Harrison Blackman and Westley Clark, colored, have been sentenced at Aberdeen, Miss., to be hanged March 22 for the murder and robbery of Capt. Patrick Hamilton December 31.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—The Tribune states as a positive fact that the South Pennsylvania railroad is now completely in the hands of the Vanderbilts, the transaction by which they secured control being completed at a meeting held on Tuesday last between Vanderbilt representatives, and the representatives of the Hostetter, Carnegie and other stockholders. It is believed that the road will not be completed.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA

These twin diseases cause untold suffering. Doctors admit that they are difficult to cure—so do their patients. Paine's Celery Compound has permanently cured the worst cases of rheumatism and neuralgia—so say those who have used it.

"Having been troubled with rheumatism at the knee and foot for five years, I was almost unable to get around, and was very often confined to my bed for weeks at a time. I used only one bottle of Paine's Celery Compound, and was perfectly cured. I can now jump around, and feel as lively as a boy." FRANK CARROLL, Eureka, Nevada.

"I have been greatly afflicted with acute rheumatism, and could find no relief until I used Paine's Celery Compound. After using six bottles of this medicine I am now cured of rheumatic troubles." SAMUEL HUTCHINSON, So. Cornish, N. H.
